1.e [17:01] — Harshwardhan More asked about disabling processes

Original message: @Sunny Could you please confirm with JMM whether only the writeback should be disabled, or if all related processes—including writebacks, data pull/sync, rollovers, and mappings—should be turned off for the next two months (June and July)?

Project Code: NO PROJECT CODE

Thread summary: Sunny suggested writing an email to JMM and cc'ing staff support and others. Sonali Gaikwad asked if the writeback should be triggered in August for the previous academic year, and Sunny replied that it should not be triggered. The discussion seems to be resolved, with Sonali acknowledging Sunny's response.

Note: Since there is only one thread start time (17:01) in the PROJECT CODE REFERENCE TABLE, and it corresponds to "NO PROJECT CODE", all threads are marked as "NO PROJECT CODE".

@channel email confirmation for absent note is not very clear. This parent selected the 6th of May and the 8th of May. In the email it shows 2026-05-08, 2026-05-12. This looks like it's from - to.

It should be more clear eg:

> Thank you for submitting your absentee note for:

> • 6th May 2026

> • 8th May 2026

> The note has been submitted to the school.

Note, the date format too. In Ireland, we use DD/MM/YYYY

YYYY/MM/DD is too confusing for users. Please ensure going forward any date formats should be DD/MM/YYYY or like 6th May 2026. We need to update all areas of the system (big job perhaps but necessary). James mentioned this multiple times.

Can this please be done?

Also @Kumaraswamy R is the date range selection on absent note live? Instead of individual days, it's a range selection. Please confirm and make Mount Anville live if not already. Please also do this for all school apps.

Thanks

[14:41] Sunny: cc @Sandeep Jain

[14:42] Sunny: lee also wanted email to be changed (how the dates are shown) so if needed, just create a separate job for the email change

[12:44] Sunny: @Shruti Kokate this is the device info - sorry i forgot to get back to you on this.

[13:00] Kumaraswamy R: Hi @Sunny

[13:02] Kumaraswamy R: Actually looking at the screenshots I can see that the app is installed but failed to launch due to Google Play services on that device

[13:06] Kumaraswamy R: Previously, installing apk used to work on that phone?

[13:08] Sunny: im not sure

[13:08] Sunny: parents reached out on May 7

[13:08] Sunny: and last communication is May 21

[13:08] Sunny: registration date is May 16 though

[13:10] Kumaraswamy R: Okay. I think that device doesn't have Google Play services installed. This is required for our app to handle Notifications and other Google services.

[13:10] Sunny: it's huawei so it doesnt have google play

[13:10] Sunny: i thought apk will works but shruti sent a download link 2 times both failed

[13:13] Kumaraswamy R: Yeah, user can still download the GBox app and try if they want.

- Open the Huawei AppGallery on your phone.
- Search for and install GBox.
- Open GBox and locate the Google Play Store icon within the app.
- Open the Play Store, log in with your Google account, and download your apps.

[13:14] Kumaraswamy R: It would be best if they use Android phone, if possible

[13:17] Sunny: ok i will share those steps to them
