THREAD-BY-THREAD SUMMARY

1.a [13:39] — Announcement about email service migration

Original message: @channel :rotating_light::rotating_light::rotating_light::rotating_light::rotating_light::rotating_light:
We are currently migrating our email service from Rackspace to Titan Mail. The migration process has already started, and we have completed an initial sync of your existing emails. To ensure that no emails are missed during the transition, we will perform a final synchronization after the migration is complete to capture any emails received since the last sync. While we expect the migration to be completed quickly, DNS propagation and email service updates can sometimes take up to 24 hours. If you encounter any issues during this period, please use Slack for communication and discussions. We expect minimal disruption, as most day-to-day communication does not rely heavily on email.
Please note: Email accounts belonging to the Data Entry team and Interns are not being migrated. — Ravindra Chherke
